SUBJECT: WISCONSIN WORKS & WISCONSIN SHARES (CHILD CARE SUBSIDY) PROGRAM -- FEDERAL POVERTY LEVEL CHANGES

CROSS REFERENCE: Child Day Care Manual
W-2 Manual

EFFECTIVE DATE: See the following narrative.

PURPOSE

This memo:

1. Alerts you to the effect of changes in the 2000 Federal Poverty Level (FPL) for Wisconsin Works (W-2) cash assistance and Wisconsin Shares (the child care subsidy program).
2. Provides information on the impact on the child care subsidy applicants and recipients.
3. Includes the revised W-2 FPL table and the new 2000 Child Care Co-Pay Schedule.

For child care purposes, there is a mass change for child care eligibility and a separate mass change for current and future authorizations in the child care payment system on the weekend of April 29, 2000.

BACKGROUND

Each year the federal government adjusts the Federal Poverty Levels (FPLs). As a result of the annual FPL changes, income limits for W-2 cash assistance, child care eligibility and the income ranges that are used to determine the family copayment for child care authorizations change.

WISCONSIN WORKS

W-2 Eligibility Effective Date:

The effective date for the income limits for W-2 cash assistance (115% FPL) is May 1, 2000.

CHILD CARE

Child Care Eligibility Effective Date:

For all new child care subsidy applicants, the effective date of the new income limits established in this memo is May 1, 2000. Applications entered in CARES after the April 8, 2000, mass change should use these new FPL income limits in CARES table TCCS for May 1, 2000, eligibility and later.

All ongoing child care cases, including those that are closing April 30, 2000, in the CARES system will be run in the annual mass change for eligibility on April 8, 2000. All child care cases will have their income updated to a new 2000 FPL percentage. Cases that are closing April 30, 2000, for excess income may remain eligible for child care as a result of the 2000 FPL changes.

Child care authorizations will also go through a mass change on the weekend of April 29, 2000, that will split all authorizations and recalculate the family copay using the new income ranges as displayed in table TCFP.

Child Care Authorizations Effective Date:

All current and future authorizations that are created in the child care payment system as of April 30, 2000, will be included in the child care authorization mass change. All authorizations with an end date after April 30 will be split with the new authorization beginning April 30 or May 14. If family income has not changed since the current authorizations were created the new, increased FPL income ranges may decrease the family copay or not change the family copay at all. However, even if the copay does not change and the provider payment does not change, the authorization will split and notices will be generated. If the mass change reduces the family copay, therefore increasing the provider payment, the begin date of the new authorizations will be April 30.

Some authorizations will begin May 14 because the provider payment will decrease as a result of the mass change. This can happen because the new authorizations will use the most current family income for May, as well as the number of children in care and the type of care chosen by the family to determine the family copay. Income changes in CARES that have not been reflected in current authorizations will be reflected in the new authorizations created by the mass change. So, it is possible that the copay will increase due to income changes in spite of the FPL change. When this happens the begin date of the new authorization will be May 14, 2000. Notices will be generated to reflect the decreased payment to the provider also.

Also, all authorizations that are created after April 30, 2000, with a begin date of April 30 or later will use the new income ranges to determine the family copay. However, if the begin date of authorizations created after the mass change is April 30 or earlier, the retro authorization will split. One authorization will use the 1999 FPL income ranges and end April 29 and the other authorization will begin April 30 and use the 2000 FPL income ranges.

Family and Provider Notices:

All child care cases will go through the eligibility mass change, but ongoing approval notices (AEAX) will not be generated for child care cases that were open in April. These notices are not generated because the eligibility status of the family has not changed.

Family authorization notices will be sent out to all families with children that have current and future authorizations because they will be included in the authorization mass change. This means that an authorization end notice and a new authorization notice will be generated for each family and mailed together on May 1.

Provider notices will be similar to the notices that were generated when the county maximum rates changed for 2000. This format lists all children that are authorized to that provider location. When there is no change in the provider payment rate an asterisk will appear next to the child's name. An explanation that the asterisk indicates no payment rate change will be displayed at the bottom of this notice. These notices to providers will not display on the provider's notice history (CNHS), instead they can be viewed as an EOS report. The report number for these provider notices is CC292.

If you have any questions related either the child care eligibility or the authorization mass change, contact the child care help desk at (608) 261-4580.

CARES

The CARES income limit tables (TWWS, TCCS), used to determine W-2 and child care eligibility, will be updated with an effective date of May 1, 2000. The child care income range table (TCFP), used to determine the family copay for child care authorizations, will also be updated with an effective date of April 30, 2000.
